

Structurally Sound...

Mike and Britney Trone met as teenagers in the White Oaks Mall in Springfield but happened to live just 12 miles apart in the Rushville area. After getting married, buying their first house, and having their adorable daughter Lola, the couple is looking forward to celebrating their 10th anniversary this July by taking a trip to Utah this summer. As a handyman, Mike gutted their '67 camper and plans to have it refurbished for the family's cross-country adventure with their dog Shie.

The Trones love living in Rushville and making their community a better place to live. Britney is a nurse at Culbertson Memorial Hospital while Mike works in the maintenance department for the city. In his spare time, Mike enjoys woodworking. He has made some major renovations – and most of the furniture – in their home. To see his custom carpentry skills, search for MT Woodworking on Facebook. Utilizing their talents, Britney volunteers at the Pregnancy Resource Center while Mike has done some volunteer carpentry work for the organization.

As a young couple looking to buy their first home in 2007, the Trones were pleased to get a loan from First Bankers Trust Company. They valued working with Joan Whitlow, and Britney remembers, "Since day one she always treated us like adults. We are able to ask her personal questions... she's definitely a role model in my eyes." Mike is pleased to add, "We've been happy with First Bankers ever since!" The couple recently refinanced with Joan and Mike says, "We just went in and signed the papers, and that's it! That's the way I like to operate right there."

Looking to the future, Mike envisions, "As far as I can see it, we will be with First Bankers for the rest of our lives. Even if we moved out of state, I think we would still want to use them."
